

Handwritten text in three columns on the left page, likely a list of names or entries in a medieval manuscript. The script is a cursive Gothic hand. The text is arranged in approximately 25 horizontal lines, with each line containing three distinct entries. The entries appear to be names or titles, possibly related to a church or a specific region, given the context of the manuscript's location (BP XXI ff.1&2).

Handwritten text in three columns on the right page, continuing the list or entries from the left page. The script is consistent with the left page. The text is arranged in approximately 25 horizontal lines, with each line containing three distinct entries. The entries appear to be names or titles, possibly related to a church or a specific region, given the context of the manuscript's location (BP XXI ff.1&2).
