The lower half of the manuscript page features musical notation. It consists of several horizontal staves. The top staff has a series of rhythmic markings, possibly representing notes or rests. Below this, there are two larger staves, each containing a series of vertical lines with horizontal crossbars, resembling a grid or a tablature system. The notation is dark and somewhat faded, but the overall structure suggests a musical score or a set of instructions for a performance. The page is framed by a decorative border consisting of repeating geometric patterns.
